SUMMARY

Tanya spent the early part of her career as a legal consultant for Binington Copeland and Associates, where she was primarily involved in the drafting and negotiation of a wide range of complex construction contracts as well as a number of disputes.

Tanya joined the Johannesburg Bar thereafter and was involved in mainly construction and engineering matters as counsel, both in the High Courts and the Supreme Court of Appeal. She spent recent years advising clients in the construction and engineering industry on the drafting of specialist and highly complex contracts and contracting strategy, claims advice, as well as on a number of major disputes. Tanya is routinely called upon to act as an adjudicator in construction and engineering disputes.

TERTIARY EDUCATION

LEGUM DOCTOR – DOCTORATE IN CONTRACT LAW (LLD)

University of Pretoria

Title of the Thesis: Justification for the Recognition of a New Nominate Contract Based on Project Defect Management

The research sought to establish whether the general acceptance that the common construction and engineering contracts as falling within the classification of the locatio conductio under South African law is correct. The investigations considered the classification of the common building, construction and engineering contracts, with reference to the South African publications of JBCC and GCC, as well as the internationally published FIDIC Silver Book, FIDIC Yellow Book, and FIDIC Red Book, as well as the NEC ECC Option A and Option B.
