My current practice is made up of motion and trial litigation in both the High Court and Magistrate's Court, as well as appearances in arbitration and insolvency enquiries. My experience includes the following areas of law:

- Property law (including sectional titles, shareblock schemes, CSOS and other)
- Company Law (including insolvency, business rescue, shareholders disputes, delinquency and other)
- Banking and Insurance law (FICA and FIAS compliance and other)
- Consumer law (including the National Credit Act and Consumer Protection Act)
- Family law (all aspects)
- Delictual claims, including defamation suits and interdicts
- Contractual disputes and claims
- Administrative Law (in particular judicial reviews)

Over the last few years my practice has grown year on year at an average rate of 25-30% per year. I have been solely responsible for its growth due to the strong relationships I have with my instructing attorneys.
